

HURRICANE

From the Oahu Base Support Battalion Commander

JUNE 2006

Guide for The Oahu North and South Communities

Some of you may think that we are safe from any type of danger here in the middle of the Pacific Ocean. Yes, we are in paradise, with sunny skies and beautiful beaches, but in an instant that can all change. Hurricanes and tropical storms can be our worst enemy in the Hawaiian Islands.

Tracking a Hurricane

When a hurricane is approaching Hawaii, you will probably learn about it from radio or television news reports. The news media will be reporting advisories they received from the National Weather Service (NWS) in Honolulu.

In addition, residents should stay tuned to the HACN TV2 for detailed information on actions to take. Specific instructions on the things you need to do, and supplies you should have on hand will be announced. By monitoring a local TV or radio station, and HACN TV2 you will be sure to have an understanding of last minute actions to take.

Don't wait until it's too late!
Take the time NOW to locate your assigned emergency shelter!
See pages 2 & 3
for shelter assignments.

Now is the time to begin to prepare. Everyone should begin to prepare their family for hurricane season (June through December). There is a massive amount of information available on disaster preparedness. Everyone should refer to the Hawaiian Telecom Yellow pages directory for information on civil defense warnings and procedures. Included with this flyer are other important details you need to know.

Take some time now to educate yourself and your family. At one time or another most of us have been involved in a fire drill at home or where we work. We practice this so we know what to do if there ever was a fire in our place of duty, or our home. Knowing what to do in the event of a hurricane is just as important.

If the head of the household is away on a deployment will
the rest of the family know what to do?

Included in this flyer are some of the basics you need to know to start you and your family on the road to being prepared.

Hurricanes are dangerous...

What makes hurricanes the dangerous storms they are? Is it that they combine the triple hazard of violent winds, torrential rains, abnormally high waves and storm tides? Each of these by itself can pose a serious threat to life and property. Taken together they are capable of causing widespread destruction.

Hurricane Iniki took its toll on Hawaii in September 1992. Damages resulting from Hurricane Iniki totaled $2.4 billion. Oahu alone sustained $31 million in damage.

Schofield Barracks also felt the blow of the hurricane damage. Extensive renovations to portions of the post leaves the impression that Schofield Barracks escaped the wrath of the hurricane. Don't wait until the last minute to prepare for this year's hurricane season. Take some time out and review these easy tips for preparing your family for this year's Hurricane Season.

??FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS??

1. How is my home assigned to a shelter?

- A. The shelters have been assigned based on the number of personnel within each of the housing communities and how many personnel each shelter can accommodate. This is to ensure ALL occupants can report smoothly and safely to their shelter without overcrowding. Additionally, your shelter may not necessarily be the shelter closest to your home. You are to report to the shelter that has been assigned to your house (see pg 3 for a list of shelters).

2. What should my family bring to the shelter?

- A. After securing your housing unit, you should bring your family hurricane kit. A list of items in this kit is provided in this handout (see pg 4).

3. Can I bring our family pet with us?

- A. No, the shelter is not designed to accommodate animals unless it is a Service animal (i.e., seeing eye dog or sensing dogs). Your pet should be secured in your quarters, or as a last resort, brought to the shelter but kept in your car (see pg 4).

4. How will I know when to evacuate my house?

- A. Shelters will be opened selectively depending on storm severity. Listen to radio, television (HACN-TV2) and Military Police on public address systems for the call to evacuate.

5. How long can my family expect to be in their assigned shelter?

- A. You can expect to remain in your assigned shelter for approximately 12 hours or until the all clear signal is given. The shelter is set up to accommodate your family only during the time when the storm actually hits the island.

Note: If you are within walking distance of your assigned shelter it is highly recommended that you walk.
